TODAY

ROOTS ROCKER: Singer-songwriter John Fogerty is perhaps most famous for his time with rock 'n' roll legends Creedence Clearwater Revival and solo hits such as "Rockin' all Over the World" and "The Old Man Down the Road."

Fogerty's most recent album, "The Blue Ridge Rangers Rides Again," was released last August and features Fogerty's rendition of a dozen classics including Gary Bruce's "Moody River" and The Everly Brothers' "When Will I Be Loved."

The singer is scheduled to perform tonight at The Show. Unfortunately, tickets are sold out, but my best advice is to give the box office a call to see if any become available.

■ John Fogerty in concert, 9 p.m. today. 32-250 Bob Hope Drive, Rancho Mirage. Information: (888) 999-1995.

MARTIN'S HOUSE: Martin Lawrence is one of Hollywood's most popular comedic actors. The funnyman started his career in the late '80s as a stand-up comedian and went on to star in his namesake sitcom, which aired on Fox from 1992-97.

Lawrence, whose fame grew with starring roles in blockbusters such as "Bad Boys," "Nothing to Lose," "Big Momma's House," and "Wild Hogs," will be taking a quick break from making movies to perform tonight at Fantasy Springs.

■ Martin Lawrence live, 8 p.m. today. $49-$79. Fantasy Springs Resort Casino. 84-245 Indio Springs Parkway, Indio. Information: (800) 827-2946.

SATURDAY-SUNDAY

IT'S ALL GREEK TO ME: Take a trip to the Greek countryside this weekend without having to purchase a plane ticket or hassle with airport security.

St. George Greek Orthodox Church in Palm Desert will host the 14th annual Greek Festival on Saturday and Sunday, featuring live music, authentic food, art, souvenirs, jewelry and church tours. Spend an afternoon with your Valentine feasting on savory gyros, souvlaki, lamb chops and more. I'm not much of a meat eater, but I can't think of anything more appealing than devouring puffy Greek pastries smothered in honey and sipping rich, domestic Grecian coffee. Opa!

■ 14th annual Palm Desert Greek Festival, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. 74-109 Larrea, Palm Desert. $2 admission, 12 and under free. Information: (760) 568-9901.

SATURDAY

VALENTINE'S FLASHBACK: I bet you never thought you'd break out that old prom gear exiled to the back of your closet, did you? Well, Saturday's retro Valentine's dance, "Doo Wop in the Desert," is just the occasion to don your fancy attire.

The semi-formal festivities, which will take place at the Ace Hotel in Palm Springs, will feature live music from Evaro, frosted cupcakes, a full bar and a prom-style photo backdrop. Make sure to wear your dancing shoes because DJ Alf

Alpha will be spinning hits from the '50s, '60s and '70s on vinyl. Now the only question that lingers is who to invite to the big dance...

Make sure to check out photos of "Doo Wop in the Desert" Monday on palmsprings.metromix.com.

■ "Doo Wop in the Desert," 9 p.m. Saturday. $20 per couple, $12 single Ace Hotel, 701 E. Palm Canyon Drive, Palm Springs. Information: www.TheCoachellaValleyArtScene.com Questions: E-mail thecoachellavalleyartscene@gmail.com. Must be 18 to attend.

GET A PEEK AT PAM: Quick — name the most recognizable (living) blonde bombshell in Hollywood. If Pamela Anderson immediately comes to mind, then you're on the right track.

Perhaps best known for her role on "Baywatch," Anderson always seems to be in the headlines. She's graced the covers of countless magazines, been an outspoken advocate for animal rights, the object of Borat's affection, and now she's coming to the desert.

The actress will be making a stop at Caddyshack at the River in Rancho Mirage on Saturday evening. Anderson will be will be autographing the works by Michael Godard, who is known as "the rock star of the art world." Godard's works often feature colorful scenes of lime-green olives, martini glasses, dancing berries, and flaming dice, highlighting vices such as drinking, gambling and good, old-fashioned fun.

■ Pamela Anderson autographing the works of Michael Godard, 7 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday. Caddyshack, 71-800 Highway 111, Rancho Mirage. Information: (760) 341-7434.
